

BiGAUSTIN presents an innovative model to assist laid-off workers and struggling small business owners: Small Business@Work "The Self-Employment Opportunity Summit". An array of government entities, lending institutions and small business providers will present their services to existing and potential entrepreneurs. By unifying our voice, we will provide an immediate solution to the current economic times. We believe that individuals can apply their talent, creativity and hard work to improve their lives and move towards self-sufficiency. In addition to providing a strong network of support and guidance, the summit will disseminate relevant information regarding the implications of starting and growing a small business.

Are you interested in networking and assisting established and newfound businesses? By partnering with these businesses, you could expand your business base and at the same time create lasting profitable relationships that could be of benefit in the future. So, if you have a service or information that you would like to share, please take a moment to complete the form below and participate in this dynamic event. Come out and support new and existing small businesses at BiGAUSTIN's first, Small Business@Work-"The Self-Employment Opportunity Summit". If you have questions, please contact Andriann Broaders at 512-928-8010 or by email at Andriann@bigaustin.org for more information.
